

MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATION IS SET FOR MAY 30

Committees Named at Meeting Wednesday Evening

A meeting of the Memorial association was held last evening in the G. A. R. hall at which committees were appointed and final arrangements made for the observance of Decoration day in this city. As has been previously announced, Chaplain Ferris of Bushnell, for many years chaplain of the old Sixth regiment of the Illinois National Guard and a very capable speaker, will deliver the address at the exercises.

The Memorial day procession will be formed by L. W. Mitchell, marshal of the day and Charles E. Miller, officer of the day at 1:30 p. m., further details to be announced later. The procession, after passing through the business section of the city will march to Oakwood cemetery and deceased soldier's graves will be decorated. The procession will be formed beginning at the G. A. R. lot for the return march to the east side of the court house, where the address of the day will be delivered at 3 o'clock. The line of march with the positions of divisions will be announced later.

THREE DEAD IN CHICAGO; SHEEP DISEASE CAUSE

Factory Closed for In- vestigation of An- thrax Spread

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 6.—Three deaths from anthrax, two reported by the coroner and one by the county hospital, were being investigated today by Health Commissioner Robertson following discovery that all three victims were employees of the Chicago Curled Hair company, manufacturers of automobile cushion stuffing.

The factory of the company was ordered closed pending investigation of whether anthrax was imported in raw hair.

Officers of the company says their raw material comes from domestic sources and imports from the Argentine. Five percent of the total is imported.

Leopold Krzemien, the last victim, who died Tuesday, had been sick only a few hours. Health department officials are searching the records for two other cases of the disease, said to have occurred during the past few months.

Bernard Horwich, president of the hair company, said today that the case was the first he had heard of in 25 years in the business. Anthrax he said was a sheep disease, and the company handled no sheep wool.

Dr. Robertson said the germs could be transmitted by the hair of other animals.

Colonel Jafer Tayar, the commandant at Adrianople, who recently declared Adrianople independent, has returned to that place from Constantinople. He was received with a great ovation and is reported to be preparing to resist the Greek operation.

Smith, of Dryden county, was elected Republican state central committeeman from the 13th Congressional district over W. E. McHenry, of Rochelle, at the convention held in Sterling yesterday afternoon, and on motion of the Ogle county delegation the election was made unanimous. J. E. Taggart, of Freeport, was recommended to the state republican convention, which will meet in Springfield Monday, for presidential elector from this district.

Attorney W. L. Leech, of Amboy, was chosen chairman of the convention and Attorney George C. Dixon, of this city, was a member of the committee on resolutions, whose report as follows, was unanimously adopted by the convention:

Lowden Endorsed
Be it resolved by the Republicans of the Thirtieth Congressional District in convention assembled, that we heartily endorse the efficient business administration of Gov. Frank O. Lowden and all other Republican state officials; and furthermore we most heartily approve the budget system inaugurated by his administration that has saved millions of dollars to the taxpayers of the state.

We therefore recommend the united support of all of the Republicans of the nation for the candidacy of Gov. Frank O. Lowden for president of the United States.

We further recommend to all delegates from this congressional district to the state convention at Springfield on May 10th, that they loyally support all members and motions which have for their purpose the promotion of his candidacy.

We furthermore heartily approve the course the Republican members in the house and senate of the United States, and particularly those from this district and state, in obstructing the useless waste and extravagance of the present administration of the Democratic party.

Sleeping Quarters Scarce Last Night

A place to sleep was hard to find in Dixon last night, and in some instances strangers were compelled to "double up" in order to be accommodated. There was an unusual large number of automobile drivers in the city driving cars from the factory to western towns and they stopped here to spend the night. Fleets of new cars began arriving about 6 o'clock and from then until after dark many arrived. Cars were parked on the streets at the curb over night, there not being available garage room, and the drivers went in search of beds. An exceptionally large number of cars have been driven through Dixon this spring from factories to dealers' towns.

Suggests Shipping Board Bonds Bonus Be Given Veterans

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Louisville, Ky., May 6.—Shipping board ship bonds for soldiers and sailors or veterans of the great war is suggested as a solution of the bonus question in a letter written by Samuel H. McMeekin, commander, Jefferson Post, Louisville, to the executive committee, American Legion at Washington.

These bonds, the plan provides, would be issued in $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 denominations and be given to the veterans according to their length of service.

Mr. McMeekin said this plan would afford immediate financing of the bonus question without additional taxation as all interest accruing on the ship bonds would be earned by the ships. Moreover, he said, it would insure American ownership and operation of a vast merchant marine.

Cablegram is Kept From British Premier

London, May 5.—The cablegram sent to Premier Lloyd George yesterday signed by 88 members of the American House of Representatives protesting against the imprisonment on May 10th, that they loyally support all members and motions which have for their purpose the promotion of his candidacy.

Other officials at number 10 Downing street said today that they were unwilling to suggest, what, if any, action the premier might take with regard to the message.

Premier Lloyd George will not take cognizance of the message from American congressmen relative to Ireland.

"This sort of thing has ceased to cause any here" an official at 10 Downing street told the Associated Press this morning. "We believe that resolutions and messages coming from America are political maneuvers and that they do not represent American sentiment. Consequently they have little weight."

Charges Propaganda Against Labor Cause

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Mr. Healy did not name the official to whom he referred but much of his long prepared statement to the board had to do with the announcement by the department of justice concerning threatened strikes and violence on last May Day.

Wilson's Decision Knocks Props From Deportation Cases

BULLETIN
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 6.—Immediate amendment of the immigration laws was considered today at a special meeting of the senate immigration committee, called as a result of the ruling yesterday by Secretary Wilson that membership in the Communist Labor party is alone insufficient cause for deportation of aliens.

Chairman Johnson, of the house immigration committee was the first witness. He criticized Secretary Wilson and Assistant Secretary Post and urged prompt prosecution of the house bill extending the anti-alien laws.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, also denounced the Communist Labor ruling.

"It is apparent from the attitude of Secretary Wilson and Mr. Post," said Senator King, "that we transfer deportation powers from the labor department to justice, particularly if we're to have such men in office as Mr. Wilson and Mr. Post."

Mr. Johnson declared that the Communist Labor party as well as the Communist party advocated the overthrow of the government by force. Attorney for aliens in the Communist Labor case admitted, he said, that "there was no difference between the two parties."

Passage by the senate of the house bill, the witness continued, was necessary to meet Secretary Wilson's ruling.

Mr. Johnson offered to give the committee at a later time further evidence regarding radical propaganda, and action on the house bill was deferred.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 6.—As a result of the ruling yesterday by Secretary of Labor Wilson that membership in the communist labor party does not of itself constitute sufficient ground for deportation of aliens the course of the department of justice as to course of future action against radicals will not be determined until Attorney General Palmer has had an opportunity to study the opinion.

In making this statement Assistant Attorney General Garvin declared that because of the ruling the case of the department of justice falls flat and there is nothing more he can do in apprehending persons such as constitute the Communist Labor party and which the department, he said, believes are a menace to the government. Secretary Wilson already had held that an alien could not be deported simply because of membership in the I. W. W.

In announcing his decision the labor secretary said that while extracts from the Communist Labor party's platform indicated an extremely radical objective there was no evidence of intention to use force or violence toward organized government.

Elect One G. O. P. President is Slogan

Aurora, Ill., May 6.—Every man who was put forward as a candidate for place in the party organization was named without opposition at the Republican convention of the 11th congressional district in Elgin yesterday. No candidate to be chosen at a primary election was endorsed, the convention declaring that "this is strictly the province of the voters."

The watchword of the slogan was "team work." The slogan was "One Republican candidate for president. We tried to elect two Republican presidents in 1912."

Lewis Moore, a Joliet stove manufacturer was named for presidential elector and Justus L. Johnson, of Aurora, was re-elected state central committeeman. He is now the secretary of the state central committee.

TAKE RED STRONGHOLD.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Warsaw, May 5.—Polish cavalry, operating in the offensive against the Bolsheviks, have occupied Kivira, in the Polish thrust toward the Dnieper. Skivira, which lies 50 miles east of Berdichev, and is about 60 miles southwest of Kiev, was a Bolshevik stronghold, protected by works along the nearby river and on the hills.

Today's Polish communique announced that the two Red divisions which were cut off from the retreating Bolshevik army last week were annihilated.

The fighting is continuing, the statement says, the Bolsheviks stubbornly defending their position, although the Poles are making some progress.

APPEAL TO ENTENTE

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cattowitz, Silesia, May 5.—A "German plebiscite commission" established here to compete with the activities of Wojciech Korfanty, chief of the Polish plebiscite commission, issued a proclamation today demanding that the entente see to it that "reason and no rashness" decide the fate of Upper Silesia.

The proclamation reiterates the statement of President Josef Hitt of Upper Silesia that the Poles are planning a military occupation of the Upper Silesian plebiscite area and of German territory to the north and east of that area.

Dr. Curt Urbank, former burgomaster of Rossberg, a suburb of Beuthen, head of the German commission, published the proclamation which was the commission's first announcement and came as a sequel to the German government's protest to the international commission against the alleged Polish conspiracy for military occupation of the plebiscite zone.

"Our aims are peaceable and open," the proclamation said. "We are faithful to Germany and refuse to sever bonds as old as the religious faith of our people."

The proclamation assures the Polish population that if Germany wins the plebiscite the Poles will be given "equal rights."

Trautman Will Be Blind in One Eye; Cantagello Fined

Physicians attending Edward Trautman, who was struck in the left eye yesterday in a quarrel with Tony Cantagello, stated this morning the pupil of the eye was destroyed and there is little chance of retaining the sight. However, if complications do not arise it is hoped that they will be able to save the eye ball, but it is quite probable that the patient will suffer total blindness of the eye. The patient was resting easily at the hospital this morning and will doubtless be confined there for several days.

Cantagello was arraigned before Justice George W. Hill last evening and succeeded in securing his release upon the payment of a fine of $10 and costs on a charge of assault and battery. State's Atty. Edwards was out of the city and no action was taken by the state at this time. The witnesses testified that Trautman struck the first blow and that Cantagello acted in self defense when he struck the blow which will cost Mr. Trautman the sight of his left eye.

"To the above figures" said Dr. Rucker "should be added enough men to make 641,900 which is believed to be the maximum number discharged with disability."

Sweet Mentioned by Socialists as Good Man for Presidency

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, May 6.—Thaddeus C. Sweet, Republican speaker of the New York Assembly today was jokingly recommended for nomination for Socialist candidate for president by Morris Hillquit, chairman of the platform committee of the Socialist party of America.

Mr. Hillquit made his "recommendation" before going into session with the platform committee, which with the party's executive committee met here today to work out preliminaries for the national convention opening in this city next Saturday.

"I think we should nominate the man who has done most for Socialism in the past year," Mr. Hillquit said. "Therefore, unquestionably, Mr. Sweet should be the nominee. For vice president, for the same reason, I suggest Louis A. Cuvillier, Democratic assemblyman from New York City."

Mr. Hillquit was chief counsel in defense of the five Socialist members expelled this year by the New York assembly. Speaker Sweet launched the ouster movement and Mr. Cuvillier played a prominent part as a member of the assembly judiciary committee which sat as a tribunal.

Attorney General Palmer was suggested by Mr. Hillquit as a good second choice for the nomination as the party's candidate for vice president, as a man who has "done much" for the Socialist party in the past year.

Benson, war time chief of naval operations, told the senate naval investigating committee today that both before and during the war he had wanted Admiral Sims to get under way an expedition toward the north to reinforce the garrison at Torreon toward which rebels in Chihuahua were reported to be moving, but unofficial reports were that the federalists there already had raised the flag of revolt and placed their commander, General Cecario Castro, under arrest.

The witness did say, however, that a wrong interpretation had been placed on the statement attributed to him by Admiral Sims and he added that as a result, he had been done a grave injustice. He denied that he was in any way unfriendly to the British.

Corn Market Bearish At Opening Today

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, May 6.—Excellent weather together with cuts in the price of silk and other commodities gave an advantage today to bears in the corn market. Besides a little improvement in the railway traffic situation were fairly active sellers. Opening prices which ranged from 1½ to 1½¢ lower, with July 1.67½ to 1.68 and Sept. 1.59½ to 1.62½, were followed by some further setbacks and by a moderate rally with May leading the return.

Oats were easier with corn. After opening ¼¢ to 1½¢ lower, including July at 91½¢ to 91¼¢, the market underwent an additional sag before beginning to react.

Higher quotations on hogs put some firmness into provisions. Demand however, was not of an aggressive sort.

Subsequently, general covering by shorts led to sharp gains. The fact that for the first time this season, No. 2 yellow corn commanded $2 a bushel stimulated the advance, and so too did reports that Dutch banks were buying Argentine corn for Germany. The close was strong, 2½¢ to 5½¢ net higher, with July 1.71½ to 1.71½ and September 1.62½ to 1.62½.

Do You Know the Secret of Essex Leadership?

It is the New Light Type With Big Car Ability. Can Any Light Car Rival Its Speed, Power or Endurance?

Lightness today is an overwhelming advantage in a motor car, provided it means no forfeit of fine performance, endurance or distinctive appearance.

Yet, prior to the Essex, what car combined all these qualities? There were light cars to be sure. But none to meet the requirements of those who exact the highest standards of ability, comfort and good looks.

Had such a type existed, Essex could not have won such swift dominance. It could have set no world's selling record as it did, with a greater total paid for Essex than for any car ever brought out in its first year.

The very suddenness of its success shows how its qualities commanded attention. For men are not quick to buy a car that time has not proved.

And the Essex came unknown. Merit was its only advocate for recognition. Its quality was instantly obvious. In looks, in action, its appeal was dynamic. And it drew immediate response from all classes of motor users.

Almost Doubles Light Car Endurance

They found ability, speed and power before believed impossible in a light car.

Now see how Essex has justified all the fine things that have been said in its praise. An Essex stock chassis set the official world's 50-hour endurance record of 3,037 miles. In three tests it travelled 5,870 miles averaging above a mile a minute. An Essex stock touring car also holds the world's 24-hour road record of 1,061 miles.

To those who had owned light cars, the Essex was a revelation. It gave them a new sensation of stability and power. They found charm of appearance, riding ease, and pride of ownership that comes from possession of a car they know none can surpass in performance.

The Dominant Light Car By Official Proof

People accustomed to fine car qualities recognize in the light Essex, all the performance, comfort and good looks that formerly were regarded exclusive to large, costly cars.

And with it Essex brings every advantage of the light type. These compel consideration. They consist not only of important economies, but of greater handling ease, safety and convenience. Parking for large cars is becoming an increasingly difficult problem. So, too, is their manipulation in heavy traffic. The light car clearly shows its value in greater nimbleness. The common sense facts prove it from every angle, the type for all-round usefulness.

When you know the appeal of the Essex you will scarcely be content to drive another car.

DIXON WOMAN'S CLUB—

The Dixon Woman's club held its regular meeting on May 1st at the home of Mrs. Wernick with Mrs. Petersberger, Mrs. Traber, and Mrs. Nichols as assistant hostesses. The program, in charge of the Department of Literature and Art, opened with the reading by Miss Amy Petersberger of two beautiful nature poems by Strickland Gillilan, "Under the Willows" and "The Morning Glory and the Violet." These were especially appreciated. The second number was a paper by Mrs. H. A. Lazier on "Recent Developments in Art." The subject was treated from the standpoint of every day life rather than that of art in its aesthetic sense, and the basis of the paper was the outline sent out by Mrs. Parker, the state art chairman. The object of this was to call to the attention of the club members the efforts that club leaders and others are making to create a real American art. With this in mind the subject was treated rather broadly from three angles:

First, the home. Under this, home industries were discussed as the basis for an original American art. Rug weaving, artistic needlecraft, metal work, and basketry were mentioned as possibilities. Then the subject of interior decoration was taken up. The general interest in this with all the material for instruction in good taste available in new books on the subject, magazine and newspaper articles, was brought to the club members' attention as showing an awakening to our former ugliness. So also the art value of things homely such as the lesser town house, the minor handicraft, and the little intimate garden, was touched upon.

Second, the school. Here the need of industrial art schools was mentioned, as well as the efforts to encourage arts and crafts with exhibitions and prizes.

Third, the city. Here was discussed the general interest in the City Beautiful movement as manifested in three particular ways: viz., tree planting and gardening under civic control, the greater extension of parks, and the erection of war memorials.

ST. JAMES' AID SOCIETY—

The St. James' Aid society held its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Hubert Bahen. Nine members and nine guests, including a number of children, were present and spent a pleasant afternoon together. The meeting opened with the reading of Proverbs 3, the reading of the minutes, and roll call. The treasurer's report was heard and plans were made for increasing the amount in the treasury by having a home baking sale on May 22nd. Two new members were admitted at this meeting, Mrs. Rhodes and Miss Dora Miller. A contest in making hats and bonnets, as prepared by the hostess, Mrs. Bahen, followed the business session, which Miss Dora Miller winning the prize for the most beautiful creation.

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

The Lorimer yacht was to wait three days—and no more. So Bob and Spence had insisted. It was the morning of the third day. From the Mexican journal which Dr. Travers translated we learned that the earthquake had partially destroyed the hacienda where all our interests were centered. It was one of the most famous show places in Mexico. On account of its antiquity as well as its architectural value, its destruction was deplored as a national loss, and since

We Wonder of Bob and Chrys Are Alive—and Hope for the Best.

It was always included in every tourist's itinerary, the papers discussed the possibility of restoring it immediately. Columns were printed about what happened to the building but nothing at all about what had happened to the inhabitants.

The yacht's motor boat was sent to the harbor with instructions to remain there all day. And all day Daddy Lorimer and I tramped the deck and strained our eyes for the first glimpse of our dear ones.

"What was your plan for getting hold of Chrysobel?" Bob said you had a good one," said Daddy.

"I think you know that Don Manuel fell desperately in love with Chrys?" I asked.

"It looked that way!"

"Well, of course, he couldn't interfere openly with a woman whom Certeis had married. So I feel sure he plotted to get her in a round-a-bout way."

"He'd call it diplomacy, probably."

"I think he bribed Donna Camilla to hide Chrys. And the old woman was easy to bribe, because she simply adores Certeis. And she can't bear to think that any American girl should have a sentimental or legal hold upon him. It was easier for her to help Don Manuel than it was to—murder Chrys!" I concluded.

"Jane! You have a terrible imagination," said Daddy severely.

"I know you will not believe me, nevertheless, please remember that Donna Camilla reveres Certeis as the leader of a great cause, and the most important member of her own aristocratic family. But all that helps us, you see. For we know that Certeis was hit by a bullet in the recent fight and that he found refuge in the secret chamber, when the Mexicans fled. He thought they had deserted him, but too late he prophesied the earthquake himself. He told me to flee. He couldn't. His ankle was injured. Bob knows about him. And the plan is for Bob to find Camilla and exchange prisoners with her."

"Trade Certeis for Chrys?" I nodded.

"Good plan—fine—fine—if the earthquake didn't spoil it," said Daddy.

"How—spoil it?"

"If the roof of Certeis' hiding place fell in—and killed him—"

Daddy didn't finish his sentence, nor did I put my own thought into words. If anything happened to Certeis, Donna Camilla would murder every American to be found in the hacienda!

"Let us hope that the earthquake helped our side, somehow," I said, but I didn't feel half as cheerful as I pretended to be. "There's Jordan Spence to help Bob. They'll manage, somehow."

We walked the deck in silence for another hour. I meditated upon phases of the situation which I had not outlined to Daddy.

Jordan Spence! By all the rules of romance, he ought to prove a real

Prince Charming. He was in love with Chrys. He ought to take the curse of dumbness from her pretty lips, and marry her, and live happily ever after! "Chrys needs a stabilizer," thought I. "She had fallen in and out of love a lot of times. Of course, that always counts against a girl but to me it doesn't seem reputable. At least, the more a girl experiments before marriage, the less disappointment she is liable to after her wedding. In the old days, it was considered a disgrace for a girl to 'turn a man down,' once she was engaged to him. That's all wrong. Second marriages are oftener happier than first. There's no reason why second engagements shouldn't also turn out better. As for Chrys' unfortunate hasty marriage with Certeis, that can be set aside. She never was really his wife. If only they are alive—they—we—all of us—can achieve happiness—if only—they have survived the earthquake."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

THE LITTLE BROWN HEN

The twins were not surprised when the Bird of Paradise—or the bird who said that was her name—asked them to show her how to hold up her train. But the Magical Mushroom said quickly, "You're not supposed to walk. You're supposed to fly."

"Fly?" gasped the bird. "Fly! Why, I never flew a step in my life!"

"I'm tired of being the Bird of Paradise," said a weary voice.

"Well, I declare!" said Rubadub, the fairyman. "Then how did you ever get here from away over on the other side of the world, if you can't fly?"

Well, the Bird of Paradise couldn't answer this, so she walked right out, dragging her lovely plumes behind her—those lovely feathers Rubadub had saved so many years in all! And her pink feet too! It was dreadful to see them tracking along in the mud!

George Ade entertained high hopes of being a brakeman before he became a fabler.

More boys dream of becoming pirates than preachers, yet more men preach than prey.

"Oh, let her go!" said the Mushroom. "I know a thing or two about Birds of Paradise, and I also know a thing or three about chickens, too. Just see if she isn't back here by tomorrow!" And he smiled a wise smile.

But that very same day the door opened, just as the twins were finishing Will Woodpecker to send to the Land Where Spring Was Coming, and a head poked itself in; a head wit home eye swollen, and all the purple and green and gold feathers sticking out forty ways for Sunday.

"I'm tired of being the Bird of Paradise," said a weary voice. "Would you mind, please, making me into a plain chicken again. The barnyard folks didn't know me at all, and they wouldn't let me in. I'm most starved to death, too."

A sadder but wiser little brown hen went home that night.

CATARACT.

The term cataract is applied to all opacities of the lens of the eye. In other words it constitutes a form of blindness, more or less complete. Some forms of cataract are inherited, but in the majority of cases the trouble is acquired and comes with old age. As a rule, the disease is progressive and in a general way it may be said that about two years is an average time for an old-age cataract to become ripe for operation. The progressive forms of cataracts in younger people are apt to advance more rapidly.

When not relieved by operation, cataract usually goes on to blindness. From time to time other treatments are exploited, but none so far advanced possess any value. "Absorption treatments" have been widely advertised by charlatans, for personal gain, but they are worthless.

Operation by a skillful eye specialist yields successful visual results in over 90 per cent of the cases. The operation consists in the removal of the lens and is usually spoken of as "extraction." After the operation the refractive power of the removed lens, usually 10 to 12 diopters, is supplied by a corresponding lens worn in the form of glasses of spectacles.

Q.—What is the cause of anemia, and what are its symptoms? What is the cure for the condition, what diet should be used, and what is the usual course of the disease?

A.—There are many different causes of anemia. Various forms of parasites or bacteria may invade the blood and cause a destruction of the blood corpuscles. This type of anemia is seen in malaria and in certain forms of blood infection. In other cases of anemia, the blood cells are apparently destroyed by some poison circulating in the blood. This type of anemia is seen in lead poisoning, in tuberculosis and in Bright's disease.

Anemia is also produced by constant loss of blood. Such loss of blood may be due to an ulcer or to blood-sucking parasites, such as hook-worm. There is a form of anemia of rather obscure origin, and apparently associated with constipation and other functional disturbances in the bowels. This type of anemia is not uncommon in young women.

A person suffering from anemia should be sure to consult a reliable physician and submit to a thorough examination. As a rule, such an examination should include an analysis of the urine and a microscopical examination of the blood. Only by determining the cause of the trouble can proper treatment be outlined for the patient.

Q.—My son, 7½ years old, when taking cold always seems to get it in his bronchial tube, which gives him a barking cough and chokes him terribly, so that he can't even speak, and when drawing his breath it sounds squeaky. What is the best thing to do for it, or can I prevent it?

A.—In many children who take cold readily, the trouble is primarily due to some form of nasal obstruction, such as adenoids. It is impossible to advise you definitely. You should be sure to take the boy to a physician, have him examined thoroughly to find out what is wrong, and follow his advice. If you will send me your name and address I will be glad to send you a booklet on adenoids.

Q.—I am a graduate nurse, but do not like private nursing. What is a "V. D. Nurse?"

A.—This term is applied to a public health nurse who specializes in the campaign against venereal diseases. There is a large field for nurses in this work. Send me your name and address and I shall mail you a leaflet entitled "The Public Health Nurse and Venereal Disease Control." This tells you of the work done by this group of nurses. Address Information Editor, United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

John Henry Dough is a friend well worth having tag along with one. Mr. Dough is there with bells on when he's needed. And goodness knows he never was needed as often nor as continuously as he is now.

Old Man Dough is a handy guy to stick round with when you meet your butcher, your baker, or your candlestick maker.

He's convenient company at the poker table, or in the pew when the collection plate draws nigh.

Senior Dough makes the auto go keeps a roof over your head, and enables you to shove your hoofs under the lunch counter.

Dough is a peculiar fellow. To some he clings closer than a brother, while he's continually slipping away from less thrifty souls.

This, too, is true of him: When you haven't got him you want but little of him, and when you have him you want more of him than you ever thought you'd wish for in the days when you didn't have carefare.

And, this is no secret, John Doe has most of John Dough.

OFF THE WORLD!

By Edmund Vance Cooke.

Old Dame Gossip just drops in, Showing all her snaggles, While her sharp and snaky chin Wags and wags and waggles.

"O, Dame Gossip, here's your wrap And while your tongue is curled, Chase yourself across the map And jump right off the world."

Old Man Temper stops one day Asking for a pill, Snaps out he has come to stay, For, oh! he's feeling ill.

DO YOU WANT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO BUILD YOUR HOUSE ON A MONTHLY PAY- MENT PLAN? THEN FILL OUT THE COUPON

To what extent does the house shortage exist in Dixon? Is there an imperative need for more residences at this time? How many readers of the Evening Telegraph find it impossible to get the kind of houses they want? The Dixon Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have an answer to the foregoing questions and readers are asked to fill out the accompanying coupon and mail it to the Telegraph.

Basis to Work on

The committee in charge of the housing problem cannot go ahead intelligently until it knows the extent of the need for new homes here and it desires to know how many Dixon people would like to have new homes built for them.

Fill Out The Coupon

If you have to vacate the house you now occupy and cannot find a house to move into or if the house you are in is not adequate for your needs and you cannot find a better one, cut out this coupon, fill in the blanks, and mail it or bring it to this office. This questionnaire is for those who are willing to buy new homes which a building corporation would put up for them, and does not refer to a renting proposition.

You are not binding yourself in any way by filling out this blank. It is done merely to ascertain how great the need is for new homes. If you think the house shortage is acute, and you would like to have a new home built for you to buy on an installment plan, fill out the coupon. The Chamber of Commerce cannot be expected to go into a building campaign unless the citizens make known their needs and desires in this respect.

The names of the citizens who sign these coupons will not be published and will be treated as absolutely confidential.

COUPON

Editor Evening Telegraph:—

I would like to own a home and if the Chamber of Commerce goes ahead with a building plan and if the terms of payment, location and style of house were suitable to me I would buy a house on a monthly payment plan. To suit my needs the house should have _____ rooms, with without modern improvements. (Eliminate unnecessary word).

This coupon is to be treated as confidential, is not binding, and is only for the use of the Chamber of Commerce Housing Committee.

House and lot must not exceed cost of $_____

I will make a first payment of $_____

The presentation was made in the stadium of the Central High school in the presence of the school children of Washington and many high army officers and other government officials.

The gold medal was presented to Donald L. Campbell, of the Clinton, Ia., high school; the silver medal to Marjorie Sheetz, of the Chillicothe, Mo. high school, and the bronze medal to Bettie Bowen Eason, of the De Soto county high school, Olive Branch, Miss. Silver loving cups also were awarded the schools which the winners represented.

The exercises at the stadium were preceded by a parade in which detachments representing nearly every branch of the army participated.

Des Moines, Ia., May 5.—April of this year was the coldest since 1907, and as one result plowing for corn in Iowa is probably not more than one quarter done and there has been no corn planted as yet, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued today by the United States department of agriculture through the local weather bureau.

The report included conditions up to May 4.

Rival Delegation to G. O. P. Meeting

New Orleans, La., May 5.—Louisiana and Mississippi will send rival delegations to the Republican national convention.

When the "regular Republicans" of Louisiana named uninstructed delegates to Chicago two months ago, it was announced that party differences had been buried, but it became known that the so-called "illy white" faction met yesterday at Alexandria and named a new set of delegates.

"Regular Republicans" of Mississippi met today at Vicksburg to elect a set of delegates to contest with those chosen on April 1 at a convention of "Mississippi Republicans" at Jackson.

Champaign, Ill., May 5.—Paul G. Bussey, surprised a number of Twin City people last night by sending a "jazz" band concert over wireless from Champaign to Urbana. A number of amateur operators were listening for the weather report when their detectors began to "Camel walk" to the latest air.

HOW TO GROW FOOD IN YOUR GARDEN

BY W. F. FECHNER,
Champion War Garden Director of America.

The wrinkled sorts of peas are not only much larger in size but also much sweeter than the smooth-seeded varieties. They are also more tender and easier killed by frost, and therefore should not be planted till two or more weeks after the smooth-seeded kinds have been planted.

Plant in same manner as recommended for earlier kinds, only sowing about 20 seeds to every 12 inches of row. Where no time nor material for trellising is available, plant the "Gradus," "Stratagem," "Notts Excelsior" or other medium like pea, otherwise such variety as "Pride of the Market," "Telephone," etc., may be planted. As soon as the peas are through the ground give lots of shallow cultivation. As the low-growing peas mature in about two months, we advise planting the same ground in bush lima beans.

KOLERABI—Sow in box in house or in cold frame early in season, and when large enough transplant to the open ground, setting the plants six to eight inches apart in the row. Or sow a few seeds wherever a hill is wanted and thin out to one as soon as large enough.

SWISS CHARD—This splendid vegetable is used like spinach. It can be grown and used throughout the entire summer, as it does not get tough and bitter, and is not inclined to run to seed early. The leaves when pulled off as soon as the desired size reached, will be replaced by a new crop in a few days. The large, broad, crisp white ribs of the leaves are cooked and relished like asparagus by many. Sow like beets and thin out to ten inches apart.

HOW TO RAISE BABY CHICKS

Put Avicol in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhea is the trouble. The U. S. Government states that over half the chicks hatched die from this cause.

An Avicol tablet, placed in the drinking water, will positively save your little chicks from all such diseases. Inside of 48 hours the sick ones will be as lively as crickets. Avicol keeps them healthy and makes them grow and develop.

Mrs. Vannie Thacker, R. F. D. 3, St. Paris, O., writes: "I had 30 chicks and they all died but 32. Then I commenced on Avicol and haven't lost any since. They have grown wonderfully."

It costs nothing to try Avicol. If you don't find that it prevents and promptly cures white diarrhea, chick cholera and all bowel diseases of poultry, tell us and your money will be refunded by return mail. Avicol is sold by most druggists and poultry remedy dealers, or you can send 25c or 50c today for a package by mail postpaid. Burrill-Dugger Co., 685 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.
